

Animate Projects

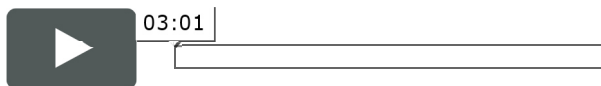

Ontologically Anxious Organism (Episode 2)

Overview

Stills

FILM

Let Me Feel Your Finger First

Solo exhibitions

2011

Duration: 3'00"

Credits

A film by Let Me Feel Your Finger First

Uwe Andrew David

Narration Klemens Koehring

Make-Up Ameneh Mahloudji

Additional Animation Elroy Simmons

Animation Assistant Valentina Grasso

Production Assistant Eric Geynes

Special Thanks David Raedeker & Uta Koegelsberger

Funded by Arts Council England

Synopsis

Ontologically Anxious Organism is nervous about the notion of character. He feels the other members of his comic family trying to rise up inside him and use him as an exit. So he disguised himself as a boulder...

Episode Two: Trapped in the void cartoon space, Ontologically Anxious Organism meets his maker and experiences the fabrication of the Variant.

Technical information

Live action video and 2D animation. Character animation by Let Me Feel Your Finger First. Ink drawings scanned and coloured in Photoshop. Sequences animated in After Effects.

Related links

Let Me Feel Your Finger First

Acting Dumb & Playing Dead

Let Me Feel Your Finger First: Backhander

Ontologically Anxious Organism \(Episode 1\)

© Animate Projects Limited 2017

RSS feed

Accessibility

Subscribe

Follow us

twitter

twitter

facebook

flickr

youtube

vimeo

Download on iTunes